

Davis Talks to Women of Republican Committees

Tells Them Why We Should Have a Gasoline Tax, Some of The Things That Affect Farmers and Some of The Things That Can Be Done About It.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 11 (AP).—Farmers and the Republican attitude toward the waterpower question, including the personal opinion of one who has been the state would be unlikely to harness the St. Lawrence river, were described to women members of the Republican state committee and vice chairmen of county organizations at a Legislative reference here today.

Assemblyman Millard Davis, of West county, told the women there was undoubtedly "something the matter with farming in New York state" and that he believed the only possible aid the state could give would be a reduction of taxes on real property and the equalization of it between counties. The assemblyman said the index number of farm property is 152, while the number for the city is 161. The index number for farm labor, he said, shows still greater discrepancy with a figure of 210. Speaking of the real property tax, he said:

"I understand it is the object of the parties to reduce and equalize the tax. They are going about it by putting a most equitable tax of 2 cents per gallon on gasoline which will yield somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty million dollars, 90 per cent of this coming back to the counties on the basis of the number of miles of highway in the county to help defray the expenses of county and township roads. Along with this is presented a plan by which a change is to be made in the way the counties are now contributing toward the construction of the state and county highways. They will pay 35 per cent of the costs, and the state will pay 65 per cent. As an illustration, in rebuilding the Albany Post Road along the west bank of the Hudson, the Westchester county, one of the richest counties, for its share of the cost of reconstruction about $100,000, while in Columbia county, one of our poorest counties, it cost the taxpayer for its share of reconstruction, the sum of about $42 per thousand valuation. "Under the new dispensation the counties will pay on a graduated basis on the assessment of the taxes, the poorer counties paying a lesser share which if it becomes a law will be considerable help in equalizing and reducing the tax burden of the poorer counties. Personally, I think the state real property tax should be abolished altogether, for real property is the basis of all local taxation and if this change is made it would be of considerable help to the farmers."

Assemblyman Willis H. Sargent, of Oneida county, said that while he believed the time had come for the development of "our last great asset," waterpower, the mode of development was secondary. "While I cannot speak with safety for the Republican majority in the legislature," Assemblyman Sargent said, "I think I am right in saying that we wait with open minds and a spirit of sympathetic cooperation whatever recommendations or proposals Governor Roosevelt shall make to us."

Trouble Over A Tuxedo Suit

Ray G. Hogan of 159 Lander street, Newburgh, was arrested Saturday by Officers Fitzgerald and Soper on a warrant sworn out by Alfred W. Mollott of this city, charging Hogan with petit larceny. The hearing has been adjourned to Wednesday in police court. According to the sworn information Hogan obtained a tuxedo suit from Mollott on December 31, valued at $35, agreeing to return it January 2, but so far has failed to do so.

Mark Henderson, a negro, arrested for public intoxication on Albany street, was sentenced to five days in jail when he was unable to pay a $5 fine. A hearing in the case of John Engleto of Green street, charged with reckless driving, was adjourned to February 13. He was arrested on February 2 by Arthur G. Carr following a crash between his car, that of Michael Augustine and Mr. Carr's car on Hasbrouck avenue at East Union street.

DISCUSS MUNICIPAL LEGISLATIVE PROBLEMS

Albany, February 11.—Fourteen municipal legislative problems will be discussed at the Mid-Winter Conference of city and first class village officials in Albany on February 27. It is expected that 500 municipal officials will be in Albany on that day attending one or more of the three conferences now being arranged. Besides the city and village officials mid-winter meeting, there will be a regular session of the city and village Engineers' Association and a conference of municipal park and forestry officials called by the New York State Forestry Association. The city and village officials will discuss bills before the Legislature affecting municipalities generally, proposed prequalification of contractors, proposed optional bonding law, suggested revision of the general highway traffic law, new plan to determine death and birth rates, police training plans, proposed changes in city and village planning laws, protection of firemen against liability, changes in dog license law model state aviation policy, proposed building and housing code liability of cities and villages maintaining parks.

SHUMAKER, DRY LEADER WILL SERVE SENTENCE

Indianapolis, Feb. 11 (AP).—Dr. Edward S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, announced today that he would go to the state penitentiary tomorrow morning to begin serving a 60-day sentence for contempt of the Indiana supreme court. Shumaker was sentenced more than a year ago and last October went to the penitentiary but on his arrival there was notified that Ed. Jackson, who then was governor, had pardoned him. Later the supreme court issued a writ of habeas corpus and Shumaker was released. Since then there had been some talk of taking the case to the circuit court of appeals and to the United States supreme court. Shumaker was convicted of indirect contempt of the Indiana supreme court because of statements contained in an annual report of the Anti-Saloon League which criticized decisions of certain members of the court in liquor cases.

DUVEN TAKES STAND IN SLANDER SUIT

New York, Feb. 11 (AP).—Refreshed by a week-end's respite from legal controversy, Sir Joseph Duvon took the stand in Supreme court this morning for the fifth day of testimony in the $500,000 slander of title suit brought against him by Mrs. Andrew Lardoux Hahn of Kansas City and Paris.

Dr. J. S. Robinson Troop 1, Y.M.C.A. Died on Sunday Wins First Place In Scout Rally

Widely Known Kingston Physician Died at Home of His Son in Buffalo, Where He Had Been Spending Winter—Funeral Here on Tuesday.

Dr. John S. Robinson, widely known Kingston physician of 44 Abel street, died on Sunday at the home of his son, Harold Robinson, in Buffalo, after a long illness. The body will be brought to Kingston and will be at the funeral parlors of E. A. Kelly, 111 West Chester street until Tuesday at noon. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street, of which church he had long been an active member. Interment in Wiltwyck cemetery. Dr. Robinson is survived by his wife and his son.

Dr. Robinson first began the practice of medicine at Roxbury, Delaware county, and then removed to this city while still a young man and had been engaged in the practice of medicine for over half a century. He was one of the few remaining old time physicians still active in the practice of his profession in this city and Ulster county. During the many years he practiced his profession in this city he had built up a wide practice, and was known as one of the most skillful physicians here. In addition to the general practice of medicine he was widely known as a children's doctor and during the many years he was active here he was present at the birth of many babies. Fraternally he was a member of Roundout Lodge, No. 342, F. & A. M., and for many years he had been an active member of Trinity M. E. Church. In politics he was a Democrat.

Last year he underwent an operation and after being confined to his bed for several months recovered sufficiently to resume his practice. Last fall, however, his health became such that he decided to close his office and residence on Abel street, and he and his wife went to Buffalo to spend the winter with his son.

Great Excitement In Mexico City

Mexico City, Feb. 11 (AP).—The greatest excitement Mexico City has known since the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon prevailed here today. Police guards were doubled because of the dynamiting of the train on which President Emilio Portes Gil was returning here yesterday and the discovery shortly after midnight of an unexploded bomb in the campaign headquarters of Aaron Saez, presidential candidate. "Saez is governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, the candidate of the National Revolutionary party for the presidency. He is a son-in-law of Ex-President Calles. President Portes Gil arrived here shortly after 1 o'clock this morning aboard the special train which had been the object of a bomb attack in the state of Guanajuato, between the stations of Comonfort and Rincon. Smiling, the president greeted officers and members of his staff from the observation platform of the rear car before leaving with Senora Portes and his baby daughter in an automobile for Chapultepec Castle. Arriving with him was the Minister of War, General Joaquin Amaro, and Senora Amaro. A heavy military guard was kept about the Colonia station until after they left for their homes. Adding to the Sabbath excitement were demonstrations accompanying the funeral of General Obregon's assassin, Jose de Leon Toral, who was executed Saturday. Of 24 persons arrested 20 were women. One person was killed and 30 were wounded.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

William B. Martin, president of the Hudson River Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association and director William H. Kolts met with other officers and directors of the association at the Phoenix Hose company headquarters in Poughkeepsie, and discussed tentative plans for the program for the annual convention to be held at Troy in June. A delegation from Troy was present and said the convention there would be a big one and the visiting delegates and companies would be royally entertained and fed. Another meeting of the officers and directors of the association would be held at Troy in April.

BERRY & CO. AUTHORIZES 20,000 SHARES OF STOCK.

Stockholders of Berry and Company, Inc., with local office at 281 Fair street, ground floor, met in their main office, 14 Cannon street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Saturday and approved an issue of 20,000 shares of Class A capital stock without par value which will be sold at not less than $25. It was learned today from Milton H. Berry, president of the company.

Troop No. 1 of Kingston took first place in the second annual Ulster County Boy Scout Rally held at the Kingston state armory Saturday. The troops assembled in the armory about 10:30 Saturday morning, where they received interesting talks from Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey and Principal B. C. Van Ingen. After Mr. Smith, the executive scoutmaster, told the boys that they wouldn't parade on account of the weather, roll was taken which revealed the fact that only 13 troops reported out of the 21 listed to appear. Taking the troops together there was a total of 220 boys. The majority of these boys took part in the affairs of the afternoon. There were eight contests. Fred Van Deusen did a few magic tricks between twelve and two o'clock, which kept the boys amused. The morning events were few, but they seemed to please the boys. The weather conditions were very poor for the fellows who were sending and receiving the message from Judge Fowler, which was being sent by the Scouts of different troops from the court house to the armory. There were seven stations along the line. The greetings to the Scouts left the court house at 9:30 and through the method of semaphore signaling it was relayed to the armory by 10:20. The following message was sent: "Judge Fowler extends warmest greetings to Scouts on their anniversary." The stations and the troops which held them are: Court house, Troop No. 1 of New Paltz; Wall and Pearl streets, Troop No. 1 of Kingston; Governor Clinton, Troop No. 1 of Kingston; Albany avenue and Broadway, Troop No. 3 of Kingston; O'Neill street, Troop No. 2 of St. Mary's, Kingston; at the West Shore railroad crossing, Troop No. 4 of Saugerties; and at the armory was Troop No. 1 of Kingston.

It was after the message had reached the armory that the troops lined up outside the drill shed and then entered in columns of two. The color bearers of each troop took five or six paces before the assembled troops and the boys pledged allegiance to the flag. Following this they recited the Scout oath and the Scout laws. After this Mr. Smith introduced Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, who read the message of Judge Fowler which the Scouts relayed from the court house to the armory. The mayor also told the boys that probably one of their number would some day have the equal prominence of President-elect Hoover. Principal B. C. Van Ingen was introduced by Mr. Smith. Mr. Van Ingen gave a very instructive talk. The principal related to the boys the comparison of their lives with the Father of Waters, the Mississippi river. In spite of the fact that this river is about three thousand miles long, it wouldn't be much if it didn't have width and depth. So our lives even though we may live a good many years will not be much if we don't do something that will be of some good to our fellow countrymen or our nation, so that our names will live after us. Mr. Van Ingen continued by saying it was a compliment to the city to have the boys meet here. The principal then concluded by complimenting the boys on the large number which turned out in spite of the weather. The following contests made up the afternoon's program: Knot tying, first aid and carries race, semaphore signaling, wig-wag signaling, fire by friction, fire by flint and steel, bugling and a harmonica contest.

Knot Tying.

The knot tying contest was won by Parker of Troop No. 9, of Kingston. He tied the 9 knots in 50 seconds. Marz of Troop No. 1 was second, doing it in 51 seconds, while Whitaker of Troop No. 4 of Saugerties was third, doing it in a minute and 4-5 seconds. The nine knots had to be tied on a pole held by two Scouts, one on each end. The knots had to be tied on the pole, not slipped on. The knots were: The square knot, sheet bend, slip knot, bowline, clover-knot, timber-knot, two half-hitches, fisherman's knot and the sheep-shank which was tied last and held over the head of the contestant to show that he was finished. If aid was given to the knot by the Scouts holding the pole he was disqualified. Speed and correctness were the things they were judged by.

The fire by friction contest was won by Mack, New Paltz Troop No. 1. Second place was taken by DuBois of Troop No. 11 of Kingston, and third place was taken by Zacheco of Troop No. 1, Kingston. One Scout from each troop could enter this contest. Their drill and fire board had to be of native material found in Ulster county. Cedar bark or other natural material could be used for tinder. The contest started with the contestants in kneeling position with bow and spindle held ready. The time was given until the time the signal was given until the contestant produced a blaze from the tinder.

Flint and Steel.

The third contest was fire by flint and steel. It was taken by Stratton of Troop No. 2, St. Mary's. Second place was taken by Heiser of Troop No. 16, Albany Legion, and third place was taken by Balz of Troop No. 1, Y. M. C. A. One Scout from each troop also entered this. The

Vatican and Italy Sign Treaties

Cardinal Gasparri and Premier Mussolini Sign Treaties Bringing To An End Sixty Year-Old Roman Question.

Rome, Feb. 11 (AP).—Treaties bringing to an end the sixty-year-old Roman question were signed by representatives of the Pope and the King of Italy at 12:17 p. m. today. Shortly afterward an official communique was posted declaring that the Roman question had been settled and the agreement between the Vatican and Italian government signed.

The signatories were gathered for the ceremony in the Papal Council Hall of the Lateran Palace. The treaties, written in Italian, were read aloud so that all could hear.

There followed a solemn and dramatic moment when Cardinal Gasparri signed the documents with a quill pen mounted in gold. Premier Mussolini then took the pen and signed.

Despite a light rain the immense square of St. John Lateran wore a picturesque aspect at noon when the treaty and concordat was signed. Students from the College of Propaganda lined up on both sides of the entrance to the palace, adding to the impressiveness of the scene. They were dressed in their ecclesiastical cassocks. They represented all the nations and races of the world.

There were also Dominican monks in white robes, Franciscans in brown and Augustinians in black and white, while here and there were a few nuns and some Mendicant monks in their bare feet braving the cold and wet.

Both texts of the historic document, written in Italian, were read, one by Ernesto Pacelli, the advocate who represented the Holy See, and the other by Under Secretary Grandi, representing the state. Then came the solemn moment when Cardinal Gasparri signed the historic documents followed by the premier.

The text of the treaty will not be made public for the present since it is still to come up before the legislative assembly, but a resume of its terms will be issued tomorrow.

Matters Before The Surrogate

The estate of John R. Kuhlmann, Ellenville, who died January 16, 1929, and whose will, executed May 23, 1927, has been admitted to probate in Surrogate's court, is given as of value to exceed $5,000 personal. The widow, Barbara J. Kuhlmann, and Homer C. Kuhlmann, sons, are named executors and to whom letters testamentary have been issued. The legatees are the widow who receives life use of estate valued at approximately $7,000, and sons Homer C. and Walter L. Kuhlmann each are to receive one half of the remainder. Cleon B. Murray is attorney for the petitioner.

Letters of administration have been granted Frances Bishop, in the estate of John F. Bishop, Woodstock, who died intestate. Value of estate $1,000 personal. Virgil H. Van Wageningen attorney for the petitioner.

The widow Ella Neiffer and three daughters and three sons are beneficiaries to the estate of Augustus Neiffer, Saugerties, who died July 28, 1925, and whose will, executed December 24, 1925, has been admitted to probate in Surrogate's court. Value of estate is given as not to exceed $6,000 real; nor $6,000 personal. Letters testamentary have been issued to Florence Neiffer and Ella Neiffer, who were named executors. Grand M. Brininger is attorney for the petitioners.

HOOVER VISIT EDISON ON HIS 82ND BIRTHDAY

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP).—Thomas A. Edison, observing his 82nd birthday at his winter home here, received congratulations this morning from President-elect Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Hoover, who came here by boat from their pre-inaugural home at Belle Isle, Miami Beach, for the occasion.

The Hoover party landed at the dock at Edison's estate, Seminole Lodge, at 10:55 o'clock and walked up the 1,100-foot runway to the shore where they were greeted by Mrs. Edison. They proceeded to a fountain near Edison's next office, a birthday present from his wife, where the President-elect chatted for a short time with Edison. Betty Ford and Harry C. Edwards before going into the Edison home to prepare for a modest birthday party.

Ford and Edwards, who for several years have made a practice of visiting Edison on his birthday, had preceded the President-elect and Mrs. Hoover here.

"Hello, Fisherman," Edison exclaimed with a smile as Hoover advanced to shake hands with him. The other members of the party from the "Sanctuary" congratulated the inventor on having attained his 82nd birthday.

Previously Edison had had his annual birthday interview with newspapermen and had posed for photographers.

Guardsmen Enjoy "Eats" and Social

The officers and members of the Non-Commissioned Officers Club of the First Battalion, 158th Field Artillery, banqueted at Golden Rule Inn, Ulster Park, on Saturday night when a most delightful time was had by the National Guardsmen.

Speeches were out of order and immediately after relishing the fine meal prepared by the inn chef, the soldiers proceeded with an evening of fun. The first order to be completed after arising from the tables was the lighting of the cigars furnished by Joseph Conroy, proprietor of the Conroy Strand News Depot, who is clerk of Battery A.

Then came numerous instrumental and vocal numbers, accompanied by chorus singing. The National Guardsmen surely proved that they have some real talent in the artillery. Lieutenant Paul E. Barnum and Sergeant John F. Roosa on the piano and violin respectively, rendered some fine numbers and accompanied the soloists.

When the singers completed their share of the program several real clever stunts danced to lively music and got a big hand from the gathering. First Sergeant Roy Houghtaling of Battery A proved the high gun of the dancers and walked off with first prize.

Sergeant Edward Fitzgerald, one of the old-timers of the outfit, then called for some real old-fashioned dancing and the Guardsmen certainly surprised him by the way they executed the various commands called off by him as Lieutenant Barnum tickled the ivories and Sergeant John Roosa sawed off some real antique tunes on the fiddle.

The party broke up at a late hour and the soldiers returned to Kingston in two of Spinnaker's busses and private cars. Major O. R. Hiltbrand was pleased with the conduct of the whole affair and said that he would be pleased to see more of the young men of Kingston and vicinity get a chance to enjoy the social functions of the National Guard.

Besides the enjoyment furnished by the Guard, this state organization also presents plenty of opportunities of educational value to real ambitious youths, who realize what application along these uplifting lines means. Anyone interested in an enlistment can obtain all information concerning the National Guard at the armory.

Those attending were as follows: Major, O. R. Hiltbrand. Captains: C. S. Preston, C. N. Behrens, E. C. Lawson, V. L. Oleson. Lieutenants: B. V. Roach, P. E. Barnum, C. Eckert, I. Lawrence. Sergeants: J. M. McCabe, John F. Roosa, Francis Joyce, Kenneth Post, Matthew Bence, E. J. Fitzgerald, Charles Dixon, Roy Houghtaling, G. Houghtaling, N. Houghtaling, Arthur Aldrich, James Gorman, William Jordan, Frank Storms, Edward Shader, Edward Melville, Raymond Woerner, Bertram Clair, Vernon Styles, John Gallagher. Corporals: Joseph Conroy, Chester Kieffer, Randolph Kieffer, Louis Fisher, Robert Prosser, Harvey Miller, Kenneth Van Ethen, Stephen Jettica, John Vosdik. Privates: Albert Harvey, Arthur Thompson, John Gallagher, Joseph Albright, Eugene Conway, Thomas Van Ethen, John Reichtold.

LETTER INDICATES DAUGHTER KILLED MOTHER AND SELF

New York, Feb. 11 (AP).—Mrs. Eva Bishop, 68-year-old invalid, today learned that her daughter, who was found slain in her bed in her home in Whitestone, Queens, and her daughter, Sadie, 42, was found dead in another room, apparently a suicide by gas.

Mrs. Bishop's head had been crushed with an axe, which lay near her body. The daughter apparently had tied the door of her room with a rope to the outside.

Police said a letter found in the home indicated the daughter killed her mother and then committed suicide.

Mrs. Bishop's husband had been crushed with an axe, which lay near her body. The daughter apparently had tied the door of her room with a rope to the outside.

BURHANS FINISHES HARVESTING ICE CROP

Fred C. Burhans of Lucas avenue, the well known retail ice dealer, has now completed cutting and storing 5,000 to 6,000 tons of 1-inch clear water ice from Burhans' Lake. He has also started a considerable quantity. Mr. Burhans states that the weather conditions have been better this year owing to the change in weather in January for early harvesting.

Firemen Find SUI.

Frankfort, N. Y., Feb. 11 (AP).—Firemen answering an alarm from a dwelling in this village today reported finding a 150-gallon SUI, 200 gallons of alcohol and 1,200 gallons of mash on the second floor of the building. The house is part of the estate of Mike Licari. Prohibition agents started an investigation to determine to whom it was rented.

Deplete Materialism.

San Francisco, Feb. 11 (AP).—Joseph E. Ochs, owner and publisher of the New York Times, and Henry Wadsworth, former ambassador to Turkey, here to attend the 21st annual convention of the American Hebrew Congregation, today issued a joint statement deploring American materialism and desire for wealth.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—A committee of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, reporting on the "present unsettled condition of the home," deplores companionate marriages, easy divorces, clergymen who marry divorced persons and run away couples without due caution, and low wage scales which force mothers into industry. The Russell Sage Foundation says that there are 57 "marriage market towns" in 29 states.

Budapest—Beggars not only must pay income taxes, but they must prove to the police they're unable to work. The government acted when it found there was a national association of mendicants which proposed a convention. The government forbade the meeting.

New York—Tourists from the U. S. A. are spreading American fashions in bathing suits abroad. Export sales totaled $700,000 in 1928, as against $321,000 in 1927.

Munich, Germany—Max Valier has a sled propelled by 15 rockets, which go off at intervals. He says it has traveled 275 miles an hour on ice.

New York—Commander Byrd, away down at the bottom of the world, will hear voices from home next Saturday. General Pershing, Charles Evans Hughes, Dr. Cushman and many others will speak cheery messages to him over the radio.

Tokyo—Prince Takamatsu, brother of the emperor, is to marry Princess Kikuko Tokukawa, granddaughter of the last Shogun.

New York—A millionaire barber is retiring to enjoy his wealth. Louis Morgen started work as a hoochier. He had 50 employees when he sold his hotel shop. His advice to young barbers is to read the newspapers in order to talk intelligently to patrons.

Havana—The tax commission complains that 5,000 ox carts operating in the interior are not assessed as vehicles.

New York—Spry young chap is Big Bill Tilden. On his 36th birthday he won three matches in singles and one in doubles at the Brooklyn Heights Casino.

New York—Captain Frank M. Hawks had a reason for coming on to New York. He explained to the dist. Episcopal Church: "No matter how high above the clouds you go, the sun is always there. So it is in everyday life. No matter how dark it is or rainy, like the sun, God is always up there."

ART OF SPANKING IS THEME OF BULLETIN

Miami, Fla., (AP)—"A blow above the belt or below the knees may be termed a foul, but the territory between the two boundaries is open."

This excerpt is from a bulletin given school teachers here, dealing with the proper method of spanking. Further, the bulletin declares, modern methods ban "knuckle rapping, cheek slapping and all instruments capable of producing bodily injury."

Spankings should be performed leisurely, the bulletin asserts, and under no circumstance earlier than 24 hours after the offense.

Pupils who read the bulletin probably experience their greatest difficulty in understanding the paragraph: "Punishment must be administered in kindness."

SUPERVISORS MUST PUBLISH ANNUAL REPORT

Many supervisors in Ulster county through neglect or oversight make themselves liable for violation to the county law for failure to have printed in some newspaper their annual report. The report must show receipts for the year for general fund, school fund and highway fund, with a detailed statement of each fund. Also a detailed summary with statement of disbursements from general fund for town purposes such as town board, highway purposes, advertising, assessors, election, &c.

ANDY PAYNE'S MOTHER SCORNS RUNNING WATER.

Claremore, Okla. (AP)—Andy Payne's parents now live in their new home, built with a part of the $25,000 he received for winning the transcontinental marathon last spring.

Andy, after paying off the mortgage on his father's farm, told carpenters to build for his mother the best rural home in Rogers county. He wanted it equipped with running water.

But Mrs. Payne thought a running stream in the family was enough. "I have carried water from the spring all my life," she said, "and I am going to keep it up till the last sunset."

Advice Holding Corn.
Ames, Ia. (AP)—The chances are about 11 to 1, says G. S. Shepard, agricultural economist at Iowa State College, that the farmer who holds his corn now and waits next summer will get the most money for it. Shepard bases his prediction on studies dating back to 1899.

Andrews Seeks Another Spade-Jawed Elephant

This giant creature of the Pliocene age, named the shore-tusk, made good use of its spade-like lower jaw in digging up bulbous plants. Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews unearthed a fossil of this type last summer in Mongolia and will search for another.

WHISKEY STILL'S RUIN RENO RADIO RECEPTION

Reno, Nevada, (AP)—Operators of home-made stills are being blamed by Reno radio dealers for much of the interference that is causing radio owners to complain of "squealing sets."

A "trouble shooter" employed by the dealers to determine the sources of interference reported that "rockers" used by makers of corn whiskey to age their product were causing considerable trouble because of poor electrical connections to the motors that operate the "rockers."

The "trouble shooter" advised the distillery owners in several instances to fix up their apparatus or he would report them to prohibition enforcement officials. Some of the radio interference has stopped.

"I smoke a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

Grace M. Hay Drummond Hay
Lady Grace Drummond Hay, only woman passenger on the Graf Zeppelin.

"The fact that we were not permitted to smoke from the time the Graf Zeppelin left Friedrichshafen until we landed at Lakehurst only increased my appetite for a Lucky Strike. Oh, how good that first one tasted! I'm really keen for Lucky Strike—the toasted flavor is delightful. I smoke a Lucky instead of eating sweets—that's what many men have been doing for years. I think it high time we women smoked Luckies and kept our figures trim."

GRACE M. HAY DRUMMOND HAY

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skillfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.

Which Youthful,
Also Very Smart

Light Printed Materials in Little Sports or Trotteur Frocks.

Frocks are always gay and youthful. This season they have the added feature of being very smart as well.

French designers, writes a fashion correspondent in the Detroit Free Press, are making lavish use of light plaid printed silks in little sports or trotteur frocks, which are very much in the fashion picture. For the most part, as never before, the costume which combines two or three colors is much more in vogue than the monotone effects of a season more ago.

A new version of the omnipresent silk suit shows a skirt of bright green and gold diagonal plaid printing, finely plaited. The same silk makes a scarf which may be worn not fashion or knotted low in the front over a dark brown jacket of cable knit tweed.

The blouse exploits a new fabric, woven rayon and fiber which is very soft and supple, in a small geometric figure of brown and gold.

The same suit may be had in blue, white, green and gold and rose white, and each of these combinations offers many possibilities in the way of smart accessories.

For spectator sports wear with the brown and gold costume is suggested new T strap shoe of brown kidskin which match the cardigan. This shoe is decorated with attractive strappings, matching brown lizard and has a hard heel.

Handstitched gloves are always smart. In fact they have become a necessity for sports and informal street wear. The glove suggested is in a dark shade of kidskin with darker brown handstitching.

Debutantes Start Vogue
for Dainty Cameo Pink

Rose, and other varying shades of pink, seem to be the principal choice of the debutante clients of Worth this season. A charming model in rose pointe d'esprit which has many volants forming the skirt, each band in satin of the same shade and set on slightly circular lines, is popular. The bodice has the same idea, and the whole frock is one of daintiness and youthfulness.

For a French client who made her debut the first of the year, Worth made a lovely frock in pink in the new wide meshed tulle which has been one of his prominent successes this season. This frock has a fitted bodice, following the slight outlines of the figure, with a modest square decolletage both back and front, and a very full skirt of two layers of the tulle over a heavy crepe de chine foundation. Two points of the hem dip on the sides and the back is also irregular. Its only trimming is a narrow satin ribbon belt at the natural waistline and the skirt with the fullness is in a slightly darker shade of pink.

One-Piece Dress Chic
for Slender Misses

One-piece dresses are very much in vogue for slender young girls, particularly because they are softer of line and more flattering and because they may be worn with the warm red and fur topcoats. Wool fabrics, which have been neglected in recent seasons, are again shown in models as the best houses. Many new designs in these frocks are shown with irregular neckline, the bloused sleeve and the skirt with the fullness gathered in front.

Side Train

Dipping skirts on evening gowns have a preference for greatest length and side, usually the left. The side dips also, but the left side is much beyond the floor, providing smart little trails.

LET'S HAVE MORE LIGHT

By John Cappel

from insects is placed at $710,000, 699 by the Department of Agriculture. In comparison with which the destruction caused by crabs is "practically negligible."

Three million American pleasure motorcars entered Canada last year. Many of them staying overnight in the tourist camps, where they were "supplied with what they wanted to drink" and as some of these camps have been "a little too gay and noisy" the Ontario government has undertaken the regulation of all of them.

In all the flood of words on both sides of the ocean about the future possibility of unfriendly relations between the United States and Great Britain, perhaps the best and most needed have come from our Ambassador Houghton who, at a recent meeting in England, said that "the less the thing was talked about the better it would be."

President Coolidge has signed a bill giving Mrs. (Vice-President) Thomas H. Marshall a pension of three thousand a year. The government is much richer and naturally more disposed to be generous now than when pensionless ex-President Thomas Jefferson was burdened with debt in his old age.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

GETTING SOME SUN DAILY.

When the weather is a bit cold it seems a natural thing to remain indoors, and yet aside from the value of pure fresh air there is one other great gift of which you and I seem not fully aware.

I often think, as mentioned before, that the natives of far distant shores showed a reverence that reflects upon us, when they worshipped their only known god, the sun.

Why did they worship the sun? Because they realized that their life on earth was dependent upon the sun.

And now Dr. Charles Mayo calls attention to the fact that it was not until 1750 that the first use of light in medical treatment was recorded by Russell, who was stimulated to its use by watching the self treatment of animals. Finis in 1895, Bernard in 1902, and Rollier in 1904, brought the use of the sun's rays to the attention of the civilized world, and yet all these thousands of years the sun has beamed down upon us.

It is really only at the present time that man is beginning to take advantage of these rays.

And as man is above the animal he learns much about the different rays of the sun, the heat waves, the radio waves, the violet, ultra violet, X-ray, and radium waves.

He knows that these rays have uses and is learning what some of these uses are.

For instance that the ultra violet ray will help to lower high blood pressure, increase the oxygen and lime in the blood, help the activity of the endocrine glands, which as you know are sort of regulators in the body, and increases the storage of iodine in the thyroid gland. And man goes further and is able to develop these rays artificially. But you and I, every day of our lives, should get some of these rays, and if we are shut up at our work during most of the day, remember that the sun's rays are at their best, are strongest, are most abundant, thus a few minutes of your noon hour, spent in the sun, will stimulate every cell in that body of yours.

INDEX INCORPORATIONS IN ULSTER COUNTY.

Albany, Feb. 11.—(Special)—

Three stock companies with an aggregate capitalization of $50,000 incorporated last month from Ulster county, according to a statement today by Secretary of State Edward J. Flynn, covering the activities of the corporation bureau, a division of the department of state. There were no incorporations from Greene county and six from Orange.

More companies were granted charters last month than during any single month in the state's history. The total was 2,357 companies, representing an increase of 159 over the same month last year. During the past month more companies were incorporated in the state than during the entire year of 1921.

Substantial capitalization marked the great majority of companies incorporated. Million dollar capitalization was not uncommon. Although 670 stock companies incorporated with stock at no par value, the 2,087 companies remaining of the month's total represented an aggregate capitalization of $102,502,470. The corresponding month a year ago showed a capitalization of approximately $18,000,000.

Forty counties outside of the metropolis were represented last month from the standpoint of companies incorporated. In this group Westchester county led with 98 companies, Nassau second with 51, Erie third with 43.

Cattle Lost In Fire.

Fire of unknown origin early Wednesday morning destroyed the large barn on the Howard Decker farm, one mile below Roxbury on the state road. Forty-seven head of cattle, two horses, some calves, hay, milking machine, silo and various farming implements were destroyed with the barn. The loss was over $12,000.

In 5 Weeks

Men and women, weak, thin and miserable, are urged to get on their feet and get back their health and strength with McCoy's Tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going to be enough for anyone.

McCoy takes all the risk—Reckless ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes of this, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health, your money will be returned.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at McBride Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plaster

Don't mix a mess of mustard, and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little white Musterole.

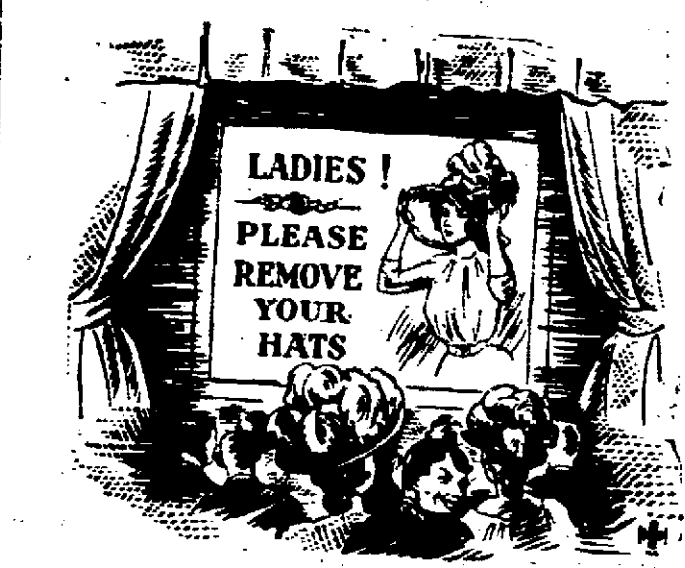

Musterole is made of oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plaster.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains in the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruised shins, from feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Here is a picture of considerable historical importance. It was back in the Nineties that moving picture houses hinted rather broadly that if the ladies removed their umbrellas hats, the gentlemen might get a view of the performance they paid to see.

Tower Over The Alamo

The Alamo at San Antonio, Tex., is the "Thermopylae" of the western hemisphere. There 200 Texans died in the Texas war for independence, after they had held back a large Mexican force for 13 days. The fortress, once a church, now serves as a museum.

San Antonio, Tex., (AP)—Paved streets and plazas, stores and towering business buildings surround the Alamo, the "Thermopylae" of the western hemisphere.

Commercial demands have encroached on the Alamo until nothing but the church and a portion of the walls remain. The church now houses a collection of historical documents and objects.

A bill before the state legislature proposes a $1,000,000 appropriation to recover as much of the old tract as possible.

The Alamo's defenders in the war for Texas independence died to a man rather than surrender, and their brave sacrifice like that of the 300 Spartans under Leonidas, who gave their lives defending the mountain pass through which the Persians had to go before they could invade Greece.

The stonework around the door of that part of the Alamo which still stands is deeply pitted with bullet marks made by Santa Anna's Mexican soldiers as they stormed the garrison. The building was originally the church of the Mission San Antonio de Valero. The mission itself included land on all sides of the church. The first stone of the church was laid and blessed by Spanish priests in 1744, but some of the buildings antedated the chapel.

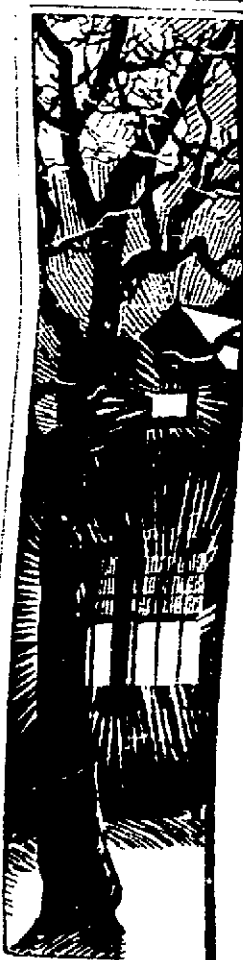

The battle of the Alamo was the outstanding engagement in the war for Texas independence. Santa Anna, defeated, had returned to Mexico for an army of 5,000. Meantime there was dissension among the Texans as to whether independence or justice under Mexican rule was most desirable.

As a result Lieut. Col. W. B. Travis, in command of the Alamo, did not receive reinforcements. A large force of Mexicans gradually invested the town until Travis' 200 men were driven to the Alamo for refuge.

Travis assembled his men and, declaring he never would surrender, drew a line in front of him and requested all who would stay with him to step across the line. All but one walked across the line. The exception was Col. James Bowie, who, because of illness with pneumonia, ordered the soldiers to carry him across, and he fought until all his ammunition was exhausted.

After a 13-day siege the Mexicans broke into the fort March 6, 1836. They slew every defender. No man knows where the ashes of the defenders rest. Santa Anna had the bodies burned on two great bonfires. When Texans recaptured the town, they buried the remains, but the exact spot is not known. A tablet has been erected on the approximate location.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

RESORTS FASHIONS OFFER FEW CONTRADICTIONS IN PALM BEACH

New York—Taking Palm Beach as a criterion which it is always safe to do, yellow has become the most important day time color and is worn in sport and tea hour frocks. It is not meant however that in every resort from this and other fashionable resorts shades of orchid, violet and even purple are reported as the choice of women whose taste in dress is unerring.

The independence of the beaded frock at evening affairs strikes a note which has become new again and adds interest to the color scheme of several kinds of dresses. Beaded, or beaded and chiffon, artificiality, stiffened have also come into the time being with tulle serving as a foundation for chiffon, and lending it its crispness presents a very new phase of the mode which at the moment seems concerned with fabrics bordering on the stand-alone variety. Materials of this character are almost essential for bustle types and many such are worn not only south but elsewhere. While flowered tulle is enjoying great prestige they are by no means the only silks used.

The growing favor accorded princess lines is another mid-winter development more conspicuous in evening models than elsewhere but daily walking for coats, several of which have been turned at the wrist and border and not at the neck. The success of the sleeveless one or two piece dress is assured for summer time. It has become the Palm Beach uniform. Several of the best looking ensembles omit sleeves either in the dress or coat. The printed suit, with an unlined cardigan jacket has won a distinct place for itself and is repeated in Paris collections. Groupy completing it by a crepe satin jumper in plain color.

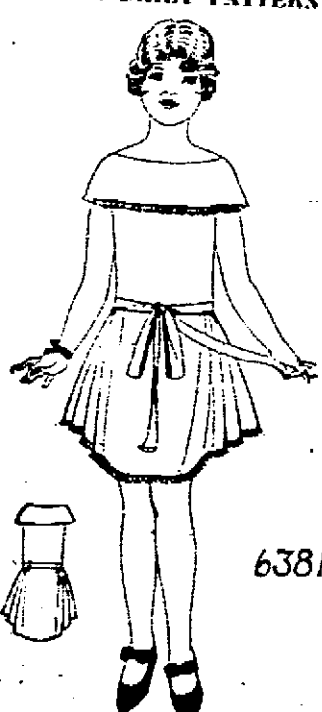

The fashion of color contrasts undoubtedly has taken hold. While it is perhaps less evidenced for evening, it is not ignored and as for sports and afternoon clothes, it has become the exception rather than the rule when they do not involve two colors. While the contrast is often struck by the use of plain and printed fabrics this is by no means always the case. Black and white has been chosen by many smart folk, while navy or other blues is often one of the colors chosen for the two colored frock. The combination of bright blue and one of the so-called sun-burned tones is another favored color scheme. Red, white and blue has been emphasized in Palm Beach reports, the choice of white enlivened with one or more colors being one of the features of the year.

From the Riviera come reports of similar character there being few contradictions of the American preferences. The outstanding feature in sports wear seems to be the pleated skirt, not in group treatments, but a frank return to wide skirts or box pleating. Circular or semi-circular skirts are also approved. The ensemble for all occasions remains an international fashion.

One of the fads which has had its birth on the Cote d'Azur, is the use of old silver jewelry with pastel costumes, a combination of undeniable chic. The newest position of the brooch according to a cable from Cannes is right over the heart.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A Dainty Frock for a Little Miss 6381. For dance or party this model is lovely in tulle or in crepe de chine. Chiffon and tulle are also attractive. As pictured, tulle was chosen, with tiny plaits of the material for trimming. Printed georgette or chiffon is also suggested. The sleeveless waist is joined to the skirt, which boasts of an uneven hem line, and is gathered over the hips. The bertha may be omitted and the shoulders trimmed with ribbon bows, with long loops and ends.

The pattern for this quaint little dress is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. A 6 year size will require 2 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. To trim as illustrated will require 3 1/2 yards of plaiting. For a cash of ribbon 3 yards is required.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notes.
Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1928 Book of Fashion showing color patterns, and containing 500 designs of ladies' wear and children's patterns in coats and dresses, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Don't kick if your employer kicks. If you're worth correcting, you're worth keeping.

Chiffon is undoubtedly one of the last words in style. It is equally smart in white, black or pale lemon yellow. Worth favors black and uses it for a straight-line dance frock with long side panels held in around the hips with pleats. For those who wish it there is a strass embroidered bolero!

First Clinic Largely Attended

The first of the clinics for well babies, which are being conducted by the Junior League, was held on Thursday afternoon at the League clinic rooms at 253 Wall street.

The clinics are in charge of a physician appointed from the Ulster County Medical Society, and the Junior League nurse, assisted by several members of the League who weigh and measure the babies, and take down their histories. The attendance at the first clinic was so large that it necessitated having two doctors and an extra nurse. Miss Hazelweide very kindly assisted Miss Mayer, the Junior League Child Welfare Nurse. The doctors in attendance were Dr. Mary Gage-Day and Dr. Mark O'Neara.

Twenty-eight babies were brought to the clinic Thursday, a welcome proof that the mothers are quick to grasp this splendid opportunity of safeguarding the health of their children. Several children were found needing special medical treatment, and these were referred to their own physicians for immediate attention.

Several Junior League members were ready with cars to fetch some of the mothers and babies who were known to be unable to get to the clinic by themselves, but the rooms were already so crowded, and there was so much to be done, that it was decided to wait and hold another clinic session specially for them some time next week.

Clinics will be held at regular intervals so that the progress of the children can be carefully watched. A notice of the next clinic will appear later.

FATAL FLOWER DRAWS JAPANESE BEETLE

Washington (AP)—If Japanese beetles start barging around the home garden, some attractive beds of geraniums probably will reduce their numbers.

Charles H. Ballou of the U. S. bureau of entomology, Washington, finds that these beetles feed on cultivated geraniums and that the diet paralyzes them, causing about 35 per cent of the geranium banqueters to die.

DOCTORS STUDY ACTION OF MINERALS IN BODY

Col. Springs Harbor, N. Y. (AP)—

Classification of minerals in the human body is expected to prove valuable to doctors as the result of experiments conducted by Dr. William

Salant, of the University of Georgia, and the Biological Laboratory here.

Searching for the reason certain powerful drugs failed to bring the expected reaction, Dr. Salant discovered a definite connection with the percentage of minerals in the blood. The effect of drugs, he decided, varies according to the individual's chemical condition. Changing that condition renders the drug effective on a positive scale.

The experiments point to the time when physicians will no longer prescribe the same medicine for all persons suffering from the same illness.

It is quite likely that he will find study his patient's environment, his favorite dishes and other things which may influence the mineral content of his body.

Say silly things, if you must, but don't do them.

Open the doors to musical enjoyment

World famous Musicians Entertain You

Every corner of your living room resounds with the regal music of world famous orchestras at the mere touch of a dial. The orchestration of hundreds of musical instruments, directed by a renowned conductor, pours out with all its poignant or spirited beauty. And as the movements unfold in their musical splendor, Walter Damrosch, dean of American conductors, explains, each week, the theme and meaning of the passage played. All his deep rooted love for the outstanding compositions of the musical world is transmitted to the listener.

Every home can have this delightful hour. An electric radio opens the doors to musical enjoyment of untold wonder as symphonies, orchestras or string assemblies tune up for your pleasure. No unsightly batteries can "run down" and mar your enjoyment—an electric radio works from an electric outlet just as any electrical appliance.

O'Neil Street Lady Gives No-Erb Full Credit For New Feeling of Health and Strength.

"No-Erb has helped me in so many ways that I want to recommend it to anyone who suffers as I did," said Mrs. George Monell, 151 O'Neil St., Kingston, N. Y., in a recent statement to the No-Erb man at McBridge Drug Store, 312 Wall St., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

"Before taking this medicine I was continually suffering because of gas formations in my stomach after every meal. This gas would form into a lump that caused a soreness across my stomach and it also pressed up against my heart causing pains and distress through my chest. My liver was sluggish, I'd awaken each morning with a bitter taste in my mouth. My tongue was coated and I was a chronic victim of constipation. These troubles had bothered me for so long that I finally became extremely nervous and run-down.

"Since taking the No-Erb, my entire system has improved in every way. It has overcome the gassy con-

Gentlemen:

During the past fifteen years, I have been engaged in the poultry business, and during much of that time I have fed Park and Pollard dry mash and scratch feeds.

Occasionally I have experimented with other brands, but I find that my hens are far less subject to disease and my egg production is far greater when I use your feeds.

Yours truly,

Three Hurt in Auto Accidents

Three people were injured in auto accidents here over the week-end. On Saturday evening Preston Knight of 317 Hasbrouck avenue reported to the police that while driving his Chrysler car on Albany avenue, at Maiden Lane, that Elsie Williams of 50 Merritt avenue, while walking across Albany avenue, stepped back directly in front of his car and was knocked down. She sustained a broken right wrist and bruises about the body.

Sunday evening about 7:45 o'clock the Elcar sedan of George L. Zelle of 153 Green street, and the Whippet coach of Addison Decker of Lake Katrine, collided on Broadway at St. James street, and both cars were considerably damaged. Joseph Natoli and Mary Natoli, both of Sawkill, who were passengers in the Decker car were slightly injured and were taken to the City of Kingston Hospital where their wounds were dressed. Natoli received two cuts over one eye and the girl received a bump on the head.

Hindus for Centuries Believed Cow Sacred

Reverence for the cow as the producer of health and happiness is traced back to 2000 B. C. in researches made by Capt. Max Wardall, psychologist and lecturer recently returned from India, into the Hindu archives containing the sacred hymns and rituals known as the Vedas. The records describing the greatest and holiest sacrifices in the worship of the Hindus reveal that these ancient peoples not only considered the cow as sacred, the embodiment of good and as necessary to life itself, but even regarded the products of the bovine as possessing the greatest health-giving properties, which scientists of America and Europe today are proving by experiments on animals and children.

An example of the prominent part which the sacred cow held in sacrificial rites was found by Captain Wardall in his study of the ancient tomes in the worship of Agni, the god of fire. Two fire sticks, or drills called arani, were rubbed, one above the other, and were regarded as Agni's parents. The child is born and immediately consumes his parents. His powers are "to dispel darkness, destroy the demons of night and lift the sun to the sky to give the people light." Agni is born anew every morning and faggots are piled on and oblations poured over him. "He grows big, his many tongues shoot up red and fiery, and his teeth shine gold." He lives on what is known as ghee and is called ghee faced, ghee backed, ghee haired and is made to say, according to the record in the Vedas: "The ghee that is poured in my mouth nourishes the gods and the manes. When called by my mouth the gods and the manes come to eat the ghee."

This ghee was made from the butter of cow's milk. It was boiled over a clear fire and constantly skimmed. When all the water was evaporated it was strained through a cloth. Ghee, in the language of the Hindus, was described as "cooling, emollient, capable of increasing the mental powers, useful in eye diseases, dyspepsia, wounds and ulcers." It was sometimes found a hundred years old, dry, hard and earthy looking. Ghee also was used to immerse idols in some phases of the ancient Hindu religion and as a libation while chanting their sacred hymns. It is one of the commonest articles of the diet in the Indian's fare and even today forms part of their main ceremonial the Brahmins.

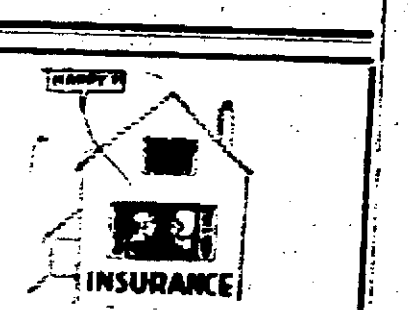

Links With the Past

Several interesting relics of the famous Board's Head tavern are to be found in the Church of St. Magnus the Martyr, Lower Threadneedle street, London.

They date back to 1831 and include an antique drinking goblet known as the "Faistaff cup," and the big tobacco box that so excited the admiration of Washington Irving, as recorded in his "Sketch Book." The latter has its cover decorated with a picture of the old inn and a company carousing, two of the chairs being inscribed with the names of Prince Hal and Faistaff. An inscription records that the box was used at the vestry meetings at the Board's Head.

Tell It to the Marines

Over the entrances to certain encampments of the American marines is a sign which reads—"If you don't listen, you'll get killed." But this warning did not originate with the marines, says the American Magazine, which explains: "It is really the life code of all wild things in nature. With them, to obey is to live, and to disobey is to die. Almost daily, wild creatures are called upon to make life-and-death choices, and they usually choose with celerity and dispatch. Reason and natural laws go hand in hand, and to violate a law of nature is always to defy reason."

THE USE OF CHECKS

HOW much the course of modern business is facilitated by that little check book is apparent only when we contemplate doing without it! The check had its beginning in England and dates back to 1793, when it evolved out of the gradual development of the banking business.

With the growth of commerce in England in the early eighteenth century, a demand arose for easily negotiable credit instruments. Practically the only medium in use at the time consisted of notes issued by banks which were written out like a modern promissory note.

In 1793 Child and Company introduced forms partly printed and partly written like our modern check. These continued to be used until about 1793 when the present system of crediting depositors with the amount of their deposits and permitting them to draw checks against this amount was introduced.

FOR THE GOOSE—
NEVER trust a woman that you think knows you don't like her.

Some women not only expect to find a well every time they're thirsty, but they'd like it to be flavored with fresh strawberry sirup and provided with straw.

When things begin to go stale, it's a good idea to bury yourself the way for a while. But not so far that you can't be reached by telephone.

FOR THE GANDER—
A woman likes you to call her all sorts of diminutive names but not treat her as if she deserved 'em.

Diseases is like in-laws. They land on you out of a clear sky and take a devil of a time gettin' rid of.

A good rule with girls is to be a little late callin' and a lot later leavin'.

Happiness is in the taste and not the amount. You get more joy out of one peach, if you like peaches, than a whole basket of pineapples, if you hate pineapples.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Feb. 11.—Local merchants closed their places of business on Friday to attend the funeral of Matthias Burgher.

Among those friends coming from a distance to attend the funeral of Matthias Burgher on Friday, were Mr. and Mrs. Case J. Quinn of Woodbridge, N. J. They arrived at West Shokan on Friday morning, and after a short stay, they returned to their homes.

The rain and mild temperature of Thursday called a halt to ice harvesting operations, which were renewed with intense vigor on Friday by Charles Dwyer, who added to his crew the services of Lauren Healy and his Chevrolet truck.

John Bishop of Wittenburg, who was buried on Saturday in the Tongue Cemetery, was a son of Simon Bishop, who is the remaining survivor of a family of 13 children of the late Jacob Bishop, the blind miller, who many years ago operated the grist mill at Bishop's Falls.

Joseph Snyder of Brooklyn, who attended the funeral of Matthias Burgher, returned to the city on Friday evening, being escorted to Kingston by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snyder.

Betty Snyder, aged nine, the poetically inclined daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snyder, proprietors of the Traver Hollow Inn, is the author of the following poem, which was published in the February 2 issue of the Rural New Yorker:

What We Must Do,
We must be true
In everything we do,
And be brave, too,
I like to do everything
That is right,
And in sight,
Do you?

William Burgher of West Shokan Heights was a recent customer of one of the local stores on Main street.

Claude Bell of the Watson Hollow Garage, who has had a severe attack of the flu, is considerably improved.

The many friends of Sanitary Inspector Floyd Goldman of Ashokan are pleased that he has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be able to again cover his beat.

Charles Hesley recently drew a number of loads of firewood for Michael Dwyer.

Michael Dwyer was busily engaged on Thursday afternoon with a long pole prodding open the drain to his cellar, the stoppage of which was caused by the excavating operations of rats, six of the rodents being successfully taken by Trapper Cassaling.

It was 20 years ago the 5th of February that "Squire" DeWitt C. Davis of Shokan died. Mr. Davis was for many years a surveyor, following in the footsteps of his father, Col. John B. Davis. He was also justice of the peace and served four terms as supervisor. He was a familiar figure at church and social functions and his jovial disposition pleased to learn that he is improved.

made him a host of friends. During his younger days he sawed off the fingers and thumb of his right hand in a saw mill which was located along the Bridal Veil stream. His vacation in life caused him to do much writing which was accomplished by holding his pen in a leather strap which was attached to the stump of his hand. This accident occurred on May 18, 1855, when he was working alone at the mill sawing heading. He was an expert at laying stone walls as well as performing the many duties in the daily life of a farmer. His residence was located in the railroad right of way at the south entrance of the sand hill cut.

The school bus was an hour late in arriving at the Kingston High School on Thursday, due to the very slippery driving conditions.

Delos Eckert hauled a number of saw logs to the mill on Thursday for James McMillin of Brodhead.

The department of water supply saw mill at Brown Station is in operation at this time.

St. Clair Barnes has been cutting and hauling firewood for William Colange.

Charles Barber and son are also supplying stone wood to Mr. Colange, which is being hauled by Lauren Healey.

The condition of William Simpson, a former resident, who recently underwent an operation at the City of Kingston Hospital, is reported as satisfactory.

Friends of Mrs. Viola Sahler of Stone Ridge, who formerly resided here, are grieved to learn that she is in a critical condition following a major operation on Monday last at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston.

D. N. Mathews and J. S. Hill of Kingston, life long friends and of about the same age as Mr. Burgher, attended his funeral on Friday.

Mrs. Andrew P. Kvery of Bushkill, who fell some time ago and injured several ribs, has again sustained another fall, which although a rather severe nature has not incapacitated her.

Charles Schipp, master mechanic of the Ashokan Garage, spent several days attending the Chevrolet school of mechanical instruction, Chester A. Lyons, the proprietor, are pleased that he is unable to give demand.

Samuel J. Van Kleeck of Kingston, who spent his boyhood days in West Shokan is about to open a garage and automobile sales agency in Margaretville.

Mrs. J. H. McRoberts and Mrs. Shepard Bell were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Hesley at "Fair View Farm" one day recently.

Cornelia Davis assisted her grandfather in hauling firewood on Friday afternoon.

A stoppage of the water supply on Thursday at the Burgher house occurred on Thursday. The cause is unknown. This locality was greeted on Saturday morning by another snow which turned into a rain as the day progressed.

Friends of Clarence Donohue are pleased to learn that he is improved.

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press)

House rules committee considers resolution for special rules to take up bill to extend life of radio commission for a year.

WOULD INFLICT 10,000 GOATS ON N. CAROLINA

Kingston, N. C. (Ph.—D. Eugene Wood, Kingston sportsman, would have the general assembly of North Carolina spend $10,000 to buy 10,000 goats and turn them loose in the eastern and western part of the state in the hope that the number would increase to 100,000 in 10 years.

He believes, does Mr. Wood, that the goats would:

1. Rid the state of weeds and undergrowth and thus beautify woods and natural parks.

2. Eradicate snakes and other pests by eating up weeds and things that snakes lurk in.

3. Give the mosquito population a wallop by eating weeds in marshes and allowing the sun to dry up the water puddles.

And another thing, they would provide a new supply of game, he says, adding:

"If you don't believe it, try to catch a tame billy goat when he doesn't want to be caught."

When the Doctor Could Do No More

The Lee baby was sick. Pneumonia was about to claim another victim. The family physician said he could do no more. Father Lee in desperation rubbed her chest and throat with an old-time family remedy. In the morning the crisis was past. The child became well. The doctor, the family and the neighborhood rejoiced at her recovery. This remedy, named "Save the Baby," quickly relieves coughs, colds, croup. Get a bottle today. Keep it ready for instant use. 35c and 70c at good drug stores.

Small Boy Had Found Perfectly Safe Place

It was the evening rush hour. An intensive throng, regardless of everything but their desire to get home as soon as and as best they could, stormed the various entrances to the subway elevated trains as they pulled into the central city stations.

The stroller was standing in the vestibule of the last car of the train. All seats, aisles and corners were crammed with humanity, a seething mass. At Eighth street the door opened to permit a few more to crowd in. A transit employee helped by shoving them along.

"Cut that pushing! There's a little boy here. Ain't you got any better sense?" This from an irate father, who was trying to shield his boy from the struggling mass.

The child, undismayed by all this anxiety and turbulence, smiled at his parent.

"Don't worry, daddy; they can't hurt me."

He had crawled under the overflow of his father's stomach.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Wife's Note to Mate 26 Years in Mails

Washington. — Twenty-six years ago Mrs. E. Burkloder wrote a letter to her husband. Recently it was delivered to him here. The letter was mailed at Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 23, 1903. When it arrived at its destination it showed plainly the effects of its journey, but bore no marks except the Harrisonburg postmark, the receipt mark of the Washington post office and a stamp which declared "Unknown at that address. Try 153 V street north west."

Where the letter has been for a quarter of a century no one has even attempted to guess.

City Departments Holiday Mail Closed Tuesday Service Here

The city treasurer's office as well as other city departments will be closed Tuesday owing to the holiday, and the board of health will not hold its regular monthly meeting that day. The only offices open Tuesday will be the police and fire departments.

Men's Supper at St. John's.
On Shrove Tuesday evening the Men's Club of St. John's Church will serve a pancake, sausage and coffee supper at the parish house at 6:30 o'clock. This supper will be for the men of the parish, young men, and friends, whether or not they belong to the parish. There will be a nominal charge for the supper and the proceeds will go toward continuing the publication of the parish paper, "The Eagle of St. John's."

Way of a Truckman With a Modern Maid

As the truck came to a sudden stop a natty little roadster behind it, in spite of a violent application of brakes, ended with its front bumper giving the rear end of the truck ever so slight a jolt.

"Well, blankety-blank, blank it! Don'tcha know how to drive, ya so-and-so? What's the big idea, huh? I put my hands over my ears, but it did no good."

"Who in the this-and-that gave you a license, ya something-or-other? For 2 cents I'd—"

What crass vulgarity, I thought, now slightly irritated. Is it any wonder that such people stay in the same old rut? Imagine one of my profession using profanity like that!

"I—er—still the din kept up. Finally I lost what scant patience I retained."

"Miss," I said with as much dignity as I could muster. "I'm sorry I had to stop so suddenly, but I had no desire to run over that three-year-old youngster who dashed across the street. Now, go along to your tea or bridge party—your car isn't damaged, and as I said before, I'm very, very sorry."

And with that I climbed into my truck and drove away.—Kansas City Star.

Minap Gave Rhubarb Grower Valuable Idea

Jacob Schwartz, a farmer living on the outskirts of Detroit about 54 years ago, was hauling a load of fertilizer when the wretched road finally got such a tenacious grip on the wagon wheels that he was forced to unload the cargo. In so doing he covered some rhubarb plants nearby. After the roads had dried out the next spring he retrieved the fertilizer, and was surprised to discover that the rhubarb, kept warm by the decaying organic matter, had been growing all winter. The stalks were not red, streaked with green, but almost pure red in color, and instead of a large leaf at the top there was a little leaf of creamy yellow. The stalks looked so attractive that he persuaded his wife to try them in some pies. So delicious was the result that he built a box over his rhubarb plants, covered it up warmly and found the stalks grew quite long. Now, as everybody knows, winter growing of rhubarb is an industry.—Detroit News.

Tuskless Elephants.
The males among elephants of India are frequently provided with tusks, but this is by no means universal and the finest physical development is reached in those males that have no tusks at all. These are known in Burma as hines and in India as muknas.

The tuskless males frequently dominate the tusked, in which connection the Burma and Indian riders have it that a hine can defeat a tusked in a fight by passing the trunk under one of his adversary's tusks and over the other, and by applying pressure either choking him or smothering a tusk.

There is, so far as I know, no reliable evidence in favor of this, but it is a fact that tuskless males often rule the herd.—A. W. Smith in the Atlantic Monthly.

Cling to Parchment.
Public documents were not allowed to be engrossed on so fragile a material as the earlier paper was found to be, and it was not until the art advanced that the new material superseded parchment. A careful inspection of several hundred old codices in the royal library at Berlin fails to disclose any lasting properties of the paper upon which they were written. On the contrary, the leaves are in many instances crumbling into brittle fragments, while the writing has become illegible.

Nevertheless, it should be added, the German paper has had a test of several centuries, while it is certain that some of the paper made today almost drops to pieces if one looks at it severely.

Not "St." Pattern

Among the many fine edifices erected by Christopher Wren is St. Margaret's, Fenchurch street, London. It bears the date of 1687, and occupies the site of a church which was destroyed by fire.

The name of the saint to whom it is dedicated is not Margaret, as might conceivably be supposed, but just plain Margaret. The church owes its second name to a colony of pattern makers who formerly dwelt thereabouts.

St. Margaret was a young Christian convert of Antioch in Pisidia, who was condemned to be swallowed alive by a dragon. But the cross she was wearing stuck fast in the creature's throat and choked it.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Feb. 11 (State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—Liberal supplies and a slow demand resulted in a dull and slightly weaker market on domestic yellow onions today. Wholesale business on carrots was transacted at $5.50-$5.75 per 100-pound sack on middle western stock. Up-state New York offerings rarely showed size or quality good enough to exceed $4.

Supplies of western New York old crop cabbage were moderate. Demand was limited. Sales on white Danish in bulk were at $4.50-$5.25 per ton. New crop cabbage from Florida packed in one- and one-half bushel hampers jobbed out at $1.15-$1.25.

Receipts of state cut carrots were moderate. The market's tone was dull owing to light buying. Washed carrots in bushel baskets peddled out at $2-$2.25; unwashed stock in hundred pound sacks at $3-$3.15.

Offerings of barreled and basket apples from New York state were moderate. The market ruled steady with trading fairly good, especially on fine quality. U. S. grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch Rhode Island Greenings whole-saled at $4.75-$5.25 per barrel. McIntoshes brought $10.50-$12, and Baldwin $4.50-$5.50.

Arrivals of state Kieffer pears were limited. Demand was light and confined to fancy fruit. Sales on barreled offerings were at $3-$7.50.

Demand for white potatoes was slow. Liberal supplies were on hand. Long Island Green Mountain potatoes in bulk jobbed out at $2.75-$3 per 100 pounds. Maine shipments brought $2.25-$2.50, very rarely $2.60.

Four directors for the ensuing year will be elected at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Gun Club on February 12. The meeting is scheduled to be held at the clubhouse, where election poles will be open from 1 to 2 p. m.

Children of Mary Run Ride.
St. Mary's Parish Children of Mary Sodality will hold a bus ride on Tuesday night. All members, who figure on going, are asked to be at St. Mary's School corner at 7 o'clock.

No. 8 P.-T. A. Meeting.
The regular monthly business meeting of School No. 8. Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Dr. Raymond Crispell, school physician, will speak.

Half of Town Arrested in Burgomaster's Death
Spelato, Delmaria, Yugo-Slavia.—Fifty per cent of the population of the town of Driska, near here, were arrested recently and charged with murder. They were said to have been members of a mob of a thousand or more men, women and children, who recently stood to death Zeno Ajdonic, burgomaster of the town.

He was popular among the natives and when he returned from a visit to the country he was waylaid at night. Police found his body in a road the next day.

SAUGERTIES

The Saugerties Chapter, D. A. R., held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Edmund Burhans on Main street, February 8, which was largely attended. After the large amount of business taken care of a delightful program was rendered.

The Saugerties Glee Club rehearsal will be held on Wednesday evening of this week instead of Monday.

Mrs. E. Conyes of Washington avenue, this village, has purchased the McDoo house, which is situated on the Albany state road between Athens and Coxsack.

Miss Alice Keenan, who has been spending some time with her mother on Parition street, has returned to Port Richmond, S. I.

Miss Helen Bradburn of Cambridge, Mass., is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. L. Howe, at the Trinity rectory.

Mrs. T. E. Richards of Shomokin, Pa., is spending some time with relatives in this place.

Mrs. James Korts of Catskill spent the day recently with her mother, Mrs. David Abel, on Ulster avenue.

Contractor Charles W. Fish, formerly of this place, and now of Mt. Vernon, was a caller here on Saturday.

Farman J. Olson of the National Bible Institute, gave an address in the Baptist Church at morning and evening services.

Birthdays party will be the subject of the home service lesson to be given by Miss Margaret Calhoun of the Central Hudson Electric Corporation at the Saugerties office on Wednesday afternoon.

The Hon. Joseph M. Fowler of Kingston spoke in the Trinity Church on Barclay Heights Sunday evening, his topic being "Child Welfare." He was well received, being the judge of the probation court in Kingston. The judge's address was very interesting and brought out the real reason for so many delinquent boys and girls and the responsibility to a great extent. The judge gave interesting facts of how helpful work may be done to better the situation by wiser legislation and Christian education, which will protect and shield the innocent child. This problem faces every probationary judge and child welfare worker. The judge brought out by interesting facts.

Gospel Crusaders Meeting.
The Gospel Crusaders will meet at Salvation Army Hall, North Front street, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. It is hoped by those arranging the meeting that there will be a large attendance. It is requested that each one bring "The Glad Tidings" singing book.

Roast Pork at Harley.
Tomorrow night, Lincoln's birthday, the roast pork supper given by the consistory of the Hurley Church will be held. The supper will be started at 5:20 and will continue until all are served.

Troop 1, Y.M.C.A. Wins First Prize

Scout could have one piece of flint and one piece of steel or a file could be used. Bark, tinder or a small amount of charred rags could be used.

Semaphore Signaling.
Semaphore signaling was taken by C. A. Baltz, Marz and Gardner of Troop No. 1, Y. M. C. A. Second place was taken by Gilday, Connelly, Rafferty and Keresman of Troop No. 2, St. Mary's and third position was taken by Parker, Russell, Huntington and Kincaid of Troop No. 9, of Kingston. Four Scouts from a troop composed the team. The team was organized into two stations. The stations had to be fifty feet apart. Two flags eighteen inches square with staff two feet long. A pair for each station was required.

Wig-Wag Signaling.
The wig-wag signaling contest was taken by Osterhout, Newkirk, Beebe, Connelly, of Troop No. 1, New Paltz. Third place was taken by O'Neil, Partiman, Zupp, Traphagen, of Ellenville, and second place was taken by Lardner, Dornbush, Martino, Macholdt, of Troop No. 1, Y. M. C. A. Four Scouts from each troop made up a team. Each team was organized into two stations. Flag was to be two feet square with a four foot staff. One flag was allowed at each station.

First Aid and Carriers.
In the first aid and carriers race Lardner, Marz, Baltz, Streeter, Berryman, Macholdt, of Troop No. 1, Y. M. C. A., took first place. Simmons, Whitaker, Tymonson, Lashier, Newkirk, of Troop No. 4, Saugerties, took second place and Parker, Russell, Schroeder, Huntington, Kincaid of Troop No. 9 of Kingston, third place. Five Scouts all from one troop could enter the contest. The equipment had to be furnished by the contestant, three 2 inch roll bandage, two 3 inch roller bandage and three 6 inch square pieces of cloth for compresses or pads. The staves and blankets for stretchers were furnished by the judges.

Bugling Contest.
In the bugling contest Palen of Troop No. 11, Kingston, took first place. Second place was taken by Zacheo of Troop No. 1, Y. M. C. A., and third place was taken by Tofel of Troop No. 10, American Legion, and fourth place, by Schuyler of Troop 2. One Scout from each troop entered this contest. Short bugle or cornet not permitted. The contestants had to sound properly on the bugle the following calls: Fatigue, church, fire, swimming, retreat, call to quarters and taps.

Harmonica Contest.
The last contest was the harmonica contest, which was won by Kincaid of Troop No. 9, Kingston. This was a special contest for the Scouts that played the harmonica. It was open to all Scouts and as many as wanted to enter. The prize was a new harmonica.

Finals.
Kingston, Troop 1, Y. M. C. A., 21 points.
New Paltz, Troop 1, Reformed Church, 10 points.
Kingston, Troop 2, St. Mary's, 5 points.

Trophies.
A shield will be awarded to the troop having the highest number of points. Individual medals will be awarded to the Scouts winning individual contests. In the signaling contests only prizes will be given to sender and receiver. In the first aid and carrier race only prizes will be awarded to leader and two assistants. Each winning team for first, second and third place will receive ribbons.

Courts of honor will be held in Kingston, on Monday and others are being arranged for Highland, Saugerties, Marlborough and Ellenville. The dates have not been set as yet.

Hot Bread Recipes.
Taking into consideration the value of hot breads on cold winter days and the ease with which they may be prepared, Miss Elizabeth Plank, of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, has prepared a number of hot bread recipes which she will demonstrate at the weekly home service class Tuesday evening at 7:30 and Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the home service auditorium at 5 Field Court. The old time delicious hot breads "like mother used to make", including muffins, biscuits, rolls, Sally Lunn, corn bread and waffles will be part of the lesson. All local women are invited to attend.

Zinna to Meet Carpio Again

Johnny Carpio and Nick Zinna, both of this city, will again encounter each other in the feature attraction at the arena, when the First Battalion, 15th Field Artillery, puts on a show on February 22. The setta will likely be a round affair.

The battle will be a catch weight affair as Carpio cannot make the lightweight limit. It is impossible for Johnny to fight at his best under 145 pounds. Zinna, with consent of his handler, Sergeant James M. McGee, has agreed to meet the rival, regardless of the difference in weights. The so-called title, which Nick copied from Carpio, will not be at stake in the coming bout.

Zinna tips the scales at 137 pounds, five less than Johnny Carpio. This is Nick's best fighting weight and for that reason he fears defeat from Carpio, who strongly contemplates putting Nick away at the next show.

Ocean's Temperature

It is not hot on the bottom of the ocean. There is a rapid decrease in temperature of the ocean until a depth of about 400 fathoms is reached, after which there is a gradual lowering to the bottom. Here the temperature remains practically uniform at from 32 to 35 degrees Fahrenheit, and is independent of latitude.

Queer Sample of Star Play—Hunch

High Critz says: "Great fielders follow hunches without being able to explain exactly why. My explanation of a hunch is this: I think it's a species of instinctive reasoning that lapses so quickly that the steps by which you arrive at your conclusion elude your memory. Out of the air, as it were, like a whizzing baseball, you grab an idea and act upon it without an instant's hesitation. I would call that but a superior kind of quick thinking."

FREDDIE MAGUIRE GOES TO BOSTON

To Fill Place Made Vacant by Hornsby's Exit.

Freddie Maguire's big league career has been a brief but eventful one. He came from Toledo last spring to play second base for the Cubs alongside a second year shortstop, no light assignment for a rookie when it is considered that the Cubs had pennant aspirations. They called him the weak link in the Cub pennant chain last spring and they hoped that the hard hitting outfield would carry him and his futility but along to the championship.

Well, Maguire hit only .277 but he was one of the finest fielding second basemen in the business and he had a part in many batting rallies that the famous outfield did not help along. This first year rookie batted in 38 runs and scored 69 himself, not so grand, and yet not so terrible.

They do say that a great keystone man is essential to a championship team, and if this is true Maguire must be quite a boy, for he played 140 games for the Cubs at second base last season, and these same Cubs were in the pennant fight up to the last ten days of play. Surely it was not Maguire who was the weak link in the Cub pennant chain. A game boy in the pinches, both at the bat and in the field. He hit within nine points of Cuyler and he accounted for more runs than many outfielders of standing in his league. And as for his play at second it was brilliant at times and it was steady when the baseball pressure was more than 200 pounds to the square inch.

But the fates of the game moved the clever and promising Maguire as a pawn in the deal that brought the redoubtable Hornsby to the Cub machine, and so Freddie will play for the Braves in Boston next season. He must fill Hornsby's shoes when the Braves go on the warpath in 1929. And he will probably fill them in the field, for he bids fair to be one of the great second basemen of his day, but no man can fill in for Hornsby and his 400 hitting average with the bat. This Maguire is no spring chicken, even if he has just finished his first major league season, for he is twenty-eight years old.

Plenty of Tall Timber for Husky Frosh Crew

Of 130 freshmen turning out for crew at the University of Washington, 81 are 6 feet or more tall. And 35 of them are 6 feet 3 inches or more. Freshman Coach Tom Bolles is inclined to worry about the height of his material, not because his aspiring oarsmen lack power, rhythm or stamina, but because some of them carry their heads so high up in the sky that they might make the boat topheavy.

Three of the youths, Karl Reese, James Donahue and Bob Hutchinson, are 6 feet 7 inches tall, while Ed Johnson is only an inch shorter. Withal, Bolles expects to have one of the most powerful "baby" shells ever to row for the Huskies.

Herb Pennock Working on His Sore Pitching Arm

Herb Pennock, the Yankee's south-paw pitcher, believes his arm has completely recovered from the attack of neuritis that laid him low at the end of last season, but he is taking no chances on having it come back. Calling at the Yankee's office, Pennock reported that he is in the shape and sure he will be ready for his regular turn when the baseball season comes around. As an aid to the cure he plans to go to Florida ahead of the rest of the team, and try the effects of the sun on his arm.

CASUOS WIN OVER

NEWBURGH QUINSET

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric basketball team traveled to Newburgh Saturday afternoon and defeated the Newburgh division at the high school court by the score of 54-24.

The Kingston team right from the start found their eye when Smith and Raichle dropped the leather through the hoop for a couple of baskets apiece. The Newburgh team was late in getting started and when the half ended, Kingston was well in front, 24-15. The second half was slow and the Kingston team found the loop with ease. Raichle, Smith and Short did most of the scoring, with 23, 16, 10, respectively, while Jones of the Hill City team gathered 19 markers for his team.

Wednesday evening the Kingston Gasco will travel to Tannersville, where they will meet the team representing that district.

COCHRAN FAVORED TO BEAT JAPANESE

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—Kinrei Matsuyama, the "mighty atom" of billiards, reaches a crisis in his gallant bid for the world's 18.2 Balkline crown tonight. He faces Welker Cochran, of Hollywood, a former champion, in the 12th match of the round robin tournament at the Level Club.

Despite the fact that Matsuyama, a "dark horse" if there ever was one, tops the field with three straight victories, Cochran, a dangerous and game player in the pinch, is the favorite at odds of 5 to 4.

These two, with young Jake Schaefer, alone are in the running for the title now held by Edouard Moremans of Belgium. Moremans, Eric Hagenlacher of Germany, and Felix Grange of France, all have fallen by the wayside.

SCORES MADE IN GUN CLUB SHOOT.

Another weekly shoot was held at the range of the Ulster County Gun Club Saturday afternoon. Kingston won the button for the week and this being the third time he has won 5 now becomes his property. At each weekly shoot in the future the club proposes to put up a merited prize for the best score of the day. The score Saturday was: King 23, Martin 21, Frommer 21, Javis 21, Coles 19, Hopkins 17, G. Smith 15.

ONE CITY BOWLING LEAGUE GAME TONIGHT

Two of the games scheduled to be rolled in the City Bowling League tonight have been postponed, so only one tilt will be staged. This will be between the Livingstons and Immanuel alleys. The Y. M. C. A. pinmen will do battle with the Locom team on Tuesday night at St. Peter's alleys and the Colonials and St. Peter's will do their stuff on Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. runways.

Hysatt Regains Lead.

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—Passing the 266 mark, Charley Hyatt, great forward of the University of Pittsburgh, has regained the lead in the race for individual scoring honors among eastern college basketball players. In 14 games Hyatt has made 32 field goals and 37 fouls for 281 points. Joey Schaaf, of Pennsylvania, is second with 186. Jimmy Collins, of St. John's of Brooklyn, is third with 170 and Ed Wicupple of Providence fourth with 164.

Chandlers Win At Springfield

Although the Chandlers were 14 points behind at half time they came through in the closing period and beat Springfield 49 to 36 at the latter's court Saturday night. The local "Y" team was behind at the end of the first quarter by three points and when the end of the half had come around it looked as though they had dropped out of the race entirely, but the third quarter changed the tune. In this period Springfield only gathered one point while the Chandlers found the hoop for 17, which put them in the lead for the second time. The closing quarter was nip and tuck, the score changing its possession many times.

The Chandlers got off to a flying start for as Krum tapped the ball to Niles, Merritte cut in and found the hoop for a deuce. This was repeated on the next jump, only Krum tapped the ball to Merritte and Niles cut in to score a field goal. Springfield called time out for their method of stopping the Chandlers was poor and it had to be strengthened. They succeeded in stopping the Chandlers from making field goal but in their attempts to foul them, the locals had eight chances to score from the free throw line but Merritte was the only one to make his shot. On the other hand while the Chandlers were being fouled by Springfield team was finding the hoop and then for a score. At the end of the first quarter Springfield led 5 to 5.

In the second session the Chandlers' pass work was very inaccurate. This was one of the reasons that the locals failed to find the hoop more often for they threw the ball away. Their old skill at working the ball through their opponents' defense seemed to leave them and for a while it looked as though they were passing to the Springfield men on purpose. Pass after pass was blocked or caught and the Springfield quintet when they had the ball in their possession took advantage of it and most of the time they tallied. Oppenheimer, the Springfield center, found the hoop four times from out of scrimmage and twice from the foul line. It was the only quarter that he scored in. However, when the half ended the Chandlers were far behind, 11 to 25.

In was in the third quarter that the Chandlers became organized. Springfield no longer caught or blocked their passes and their shooting eye wasn't something of the past. It seemed in the first half; no, it was something of the present and the Springfield team now realized it. "Chet" Fox seemed to be influencing the whole Chandler team, it was through his urging remarks that seemed to revive the spirit of his team mates for they played basketball now as they did in the past. Fox did his usual "pop" shooting and had an "on night". He found the hoop from scrimmage and Krum who had been field goals and a foul shot. "Joe" Hoffman made the two sensational shots of the game. Hoffman took up his position in the corner of the court and tossed the leather through the hoop one handed. "Joe" seemed to like this spot and evidently he preferred shooting the ball with one hand instead of two for he again scored in the same fashion a few minutes later. When the end of the third quarter came around the Chandlers had taken up the leading position, 28 to 26.

The closing session saw a few more men go from the game on four personal fouls. Altogether five men were sent to the bench. Kennedy of the Chandlers, who generally takes up his position as pivot man, was sent in the game in McLane's position at guard. Although Kennedy received the instructions from his coach Frank N. "Pop" Hinds to stay back, he found the hoop twice from scrimmage and in one case his lead. The game ended with the Chandlers on top, 40 to 36.

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—It will be a long time, at least a decade, before any tennis player can hope to match the ranking record of William Tatem, Tilden, II.

Reinstated just in time to gain the No. 1 position on the American list for the ninth consecutive year, Tilden not only established a new national mark but a world's record as well. Tennis has produced a long list of stars from Sears and Renshaw down through Lawford, the Dohertys, Brookes, Wilding, Larned, McLoughlin and other fore-runners of the modern generation. But none can match this mark of Big Bill's. Larned topped the United States list eight times altogether but they were not consecutive.

Tilden has seen such stars as Little Bill Johnston, Dick Williams and Norman Brookes fade while he remained at the top of the American list. The tall Philadelphia has watched his off-held American singles title go to France three years in a row, along with the Davis Cup. He has passed from one stormy episode to another, tried the stage, the movies and the typewriter, with somewhat disastrous results. Since 1929 no one has come along to usurp his place as the No. 1 man at home even though some of the former lustre is lacking.

Perhaps it has been because the U. S. L. T. A. desired to make Big Bill a birthday gift, for he celebrated his 36th birthday yesterday.

Rene Lacoste, the solemn young Frenchman, started a winning streak when he succeeded to Tilden's American singles title in 1926 but he allowed his crown to pass to the hands of his countryman, Henri Cochet, with defense last year. These two are so well matched that neither appears able to gain and hold the top for any great length of time or establish such an individual supremacy as Tilden did over his main rival of other days, Johnston.

But the two young Frenchmen, combined in team play, may outdo the great record of Tilden and Johnston, who were the main factors in seven successive Davis Cup victories for the United States from 1920 to 1926. Cochet and Lacoste wrested this trophy from the United States in 1927, successfully defended it last summer in Paris with the loss of only one match and look invincible for some time to come.

Lacoste is only 24 this year and Cochet only a year older than Tilden was when Big Bill first won the American championship.

Helen Wills, who will be 24 this year, now has headed the American women's ranking five times in six years and gained undisputed recognition as the world's champion for two straight years. She has three years more to go before equalling the mark of Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, who was No. 1 on the American list eight times, including the war year of 1917, when no official ranking was issued.

The California girl did not lose even a set in women's competition last year and there seems to be no menacing opposition in her path for 1929.

Whether or not his sensational streak of golf on the winter route from California to Florida heralds his approach to national title honors, "Wild Bill" Mehligorn never will have a better chance to become American champion's territory than he did over Oakland's terrifying terrain in 1927.

Wild Bill, after being apparently out of the running, had one of the wildest of his wild scoring sprees at the start of his fourth and last round.

Senior Sunday School Games

At the Y. M. C. A. court Saturday night two Senior Sunday School League games were played. Albany Avenue received a triumph from the St. John's team, 25 to 6 and the St. James team lost an unexpected game to Clinton Avenue, 25 to 24. In the first half of the game St. James didn't do much scoring but their opponents managed to collect 23 of their 25 points. The second session was the big scoring period for the St. James team. The third quarter saw them creep up and by the middle of the last period St. James had stepped in front, 24 to 23. It was after this that Clinton Avenue snatched their lone field goal which won the game.

Ruins of Old Priory

Dating 800 years back, remains of a Benedictine priory were exposed during the demolition of Sandwell hall, the ancestral home of the earls of Dartmouth, at West Bromwich, near Birmingham England. They comprise walls, dungeons, conical stone boxes, and chapel windows.
